England's biggest HOARDERS: 16,000 homes have been deemed a fire risk because they are piled high with belongings and junk - with 6,333 in Merseyside and 1,675 in Greater London

- EXCLUSIVE: Sanitary products, newspapers and gas cylinders among items cluttering 16,000 hoarder homes
- The true number of hoarder homes could be as high as 20,000, as 14 fire brigades did not respond with data
- Between 25 and 30 percent of fire deaths in the UK are related to hoarding, according to charity HoardingUK
- One fire chief suggested sprinklers should be pre-emptively fitted into hoarder homes in order to save lives
- The figures come from a Freedom of Information Act survey of the 45 fire and rescue services in England

*Number of tenants can fluctuate over the year so the organizations were asked to provide an approximate number for that financial year.

[a] These cases were resolved by the tenant being removed from the association's records by being evicted, moving into the private rental market, buying their own home, or death. None were resolved via treatment!

SELF-NEGLECT AND HOARDING???

3.3. Type of abuse and neglect

The following tables provide the quantitative data regarding the types of abuse and neglect investigated by SARs, together with a regional breakdown, cross-referencing to age-related data, and comparative analysis with available section 42, Care Act 2014, data. The most common type of abuse in SARs was self-neglect, followed by neglect / omission; however, this is not consistently the case across all regions.

HOARDING 'THINGS' .....

THE THING ABOUT HOARDING....

THE MOST IMPORTANT THING ABOUT HOARDING....

IS THAT IT'S ABOUT MORE THAN JUST 'HOARDING'.....

"IF YOU TRY TO CHANGE THE WAY PEOPLE BEHAVE BY FORCE – IN THE ABSENCE OF THAT FORCE THEY WILL REVERT TO TYPE; BUT IF YOU HELP THEM TO CHANGE THE WAY THEY THINK, THINGS WILL NEVER BE THE SAME AGAIN"

"YOU
NEED TO CHANGE
THE WAY YOU THINK ABOUT
HOARDING"
